County takes initiative to find solution

Water level woes persist

After "circling around" the problem of fluctuating water levels in Haliburton County Lakes for more than a decade, County Council is planning to take steps of its own toward the only possible solution.

On behalf of the county, Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey and Stanhope Reeve Harry Davis will be entering into discussions with the federal government in hopes of establishing a firm planning process for creating more reservoir capacity for the Trent Severn Waterway.

County Council, municipal councils, cottage associations and individual residents have been complaining about the poor management of Haliburton County lakes for at least 10 years. These complaints, though, have fallen on deaf ears with the federal government and authorities with the waterway.

Waterway's only concern is maintaining navigation

"Parks Canada or the Trent-Severn Waterway have only one mandate: keeping (the waterway) navigable all year," said Davis during last week's County Council meeting. "And they do it at our expense. They don't care if we have any water or not."

Davis is also the Chairman of the Haliburton Highlands Water Management Advisory Committee, which was set up to address concerns of local residents. His committee recently released its report on the 1987 operations of the waterway, which highlighted the need for increased reservoir capacity. "It is our belief that if capacity to store an additional 180,000 acre feet (of water) were to be provided, most problems of the residents of the Reservoir Lakes Area would be solved," the report concluded.

The fluctuating water levels in this county affect about 90 per cent of the residents, whether or not they live on a lake. Warden Bob McCausland said it used to be that roads were the cause of most complaints from residents. Now it is the water levels, which of course, are not controlled by the municipipalities or the county.

For the second summer in a row, area lake levels have plummeted to new lows. When the lake levels sink, so do the water levels in area wells. Hundreds of area residents with dug wells are counting the days until Thanksgiving, when the waterway shuts down for the winter and the wells begin to fill again.

As far as the federal government and waterway officials are concerned, though, there are no problems. The existing reservoir storage is sufficient to meet the primary

Lougheeds' dedication recognized

Rotary District 701 Governor Tom DeGeer, left, presents Val and Steve Lougheed with their commemorative plaque Thursday. Assisting with the presentation was Minden Rotary Club president Peter Bennett.

Steve and Valerie Lougheed have been named Rotary Club of Minden, Citizens of the Year. The presentation of the award was made Thursday night at a special meeting of the local service club.

In addition to a plaque marking the special honour, President of the Rotary Club, Peter Bennett, announced that a donation in the names of the Lougheeds would be made by the Rotary Club to the Five Counties Children Centre in Peterborough.

The meeting was told that the Lougheeds had been chosen for the honour because of their work over the past four years in organizing the Minden Sled Dog Derby. The couple was described as the driving force behind this annual event, which brings thousands of spectators to Minden's Main Street to take in the excitement of the race.

It was noted that the derby has grown over the years, a result of the careful guidance and drive of the two area residents.

Earl Kent retires after 29 years

After 29 years as an employee of the Anson, Hindon and Minden townships Roads Department, 10 of which were spent as Superintendent, Earl Kent is retiring at the end of October. More than 100 friends and co-workers attended a special retirement party held in his honour at the community centre on Saturday.

When Kent started work with the roads crew on October 18, 1959, things were quite different than today. "The roads are highways now, compared to what they were then," he said. And the Roads Department equipment consisted of two trucks, an old tractor and a loader.

Winter is always a busy time for the road crew, but Kent says milder weather and better equipment have combined to make the job a little easier over the years. He remembers during his first years on the job starting out at 7 a.m. on a Sunday morning to plow the roads and working straight through until 6 p.m. on Monday. This was not the normal practice, but it did happen occasionally when one of the trucks was broken down during a storm.

In Kent's mind, there is no question that the winters are growing milder. During his first year on the job, he says there was so much snow in Winners at this week's Club 35 Euchre Party were: 50-50 draw - Sharon Evans, most lone hands - Cliff Woolner, high lady - Shirley Bunker, high man - Ralph Schad. Other winners were Fran Clark, Olvie Jones and Mynna McCarthy.

Just received name of 50-50 draw for August at Kinmount Legion with congrats to Bob Herbert who won $237.

I had a busy weekend, visiting first with the Glen Sears of Oshawa, then with the Rick Moths, Islay Warburton and Jason, all in Toronto and also Carolyn Leaman who came down from Newmarket.

Book exchanges will be going on in East Branches of Haliburton County Libraries this week and you should look over their replacements after September 29th. As for me, I am doing a bit of research there and find everything very convenient.

Volunteers are needed, desperately, for outside clean up at Bowron Homestead site with work day planned for September 28 at 9. Please give the Museum Group a hand.

On the Village Green, Minden, Saturday, October 1st at 10 a.m. the Horticultural Society will hold the largest pumpkin weigh-in, along with the prize for largest sunflower head and best pie pumpkin, and best display of gourds. There will also be a sale of plants, roots, squash and garden goodies. I won't miss this.

Haliburton County Alzheimers Support Group are presenting a video film about "The fate of Reta Hayworth" who died of Alzheimers. Barbara Walters also interviews Reta's daughter, Princess Jasmine. All care-givers and interested people are welcome on Wednesday, September 28th at 7:30 p.m. at Hyland Crest Home.

Minden Seniors Curling Club General Meeting is October 1st, 7 p.m. at Club Lounge with cheese and refreshments. A general meeting is planned by District Horticultural Society, October 4 at the Courtroom with all welcome. The Simple Things
Do we forget the simple things
That make our lives worthwhile?
The grace of a flowing tear,
The tenderness of a smile.

We tend to dwell on the problems
That each day seems to bring.
Is there nothing better to recall?
Have we forgotten everything?

Stop now and remember
Some memories you've stored away,
Something worth recalling
To make a better day.

Linda Durham
Good birthday wishes to Tryphina Jenkins on October 3 and Lucy Burgess on October 6, both these ladies are at Hyland Crest.

There was a family evening at Hyland Crest Auditorium Wednesday, September 21 as Bill and Irene Moore enjoyed a visit with their family Muriel and Earl Bird and girls, Helen and Alan Brydson and Leslie of Bracebridge and Garnet Moore of Bramalea, and Dennis Moore of Victoria, B.C. Lots of pictures were taken and a great time was had by all.

Pleased to report Ken Rowden is now in Rehabilitation at Civic Hospital, room 110 and making great progress.

The Shuffleboard Group had euchre games and a pot luck lunch at Sunrise Apartments last Wednesday morning and all received a small gift. Thanks were given to all the organizers of this season and this day. The courts will be in use at times yet, wether permitting.

The Minden County Town Museum Committee held their September 21st meeting in the morning. Reports were given and many details were discussed. Draw for the afghan will be made October 10th. Next meeting will be October 19th at 10, hopefully in the Museum Building. Members please note to turn in tickets or stubs for above draw to Irene Moore by October 7th.

St. Paul's euchre party winners for the week were: high lady - Shirley Elcome, low lady - Heather Plumley, high man - Jeanne Sears, low man - Betty Harper and most lone hands - Marg MacAfee.

Jerry and Ruby Schmidt visited friends and relatives at Hyland Crest, including Angus Coulter, Bill Moore Bert Harrison and Ina McGuire. We had a nice visit with Gladys Wruth, Edith McKnight and visited Bern and Doreen Berry and saw sister Barbara and Jack from Toronto and Beulah Hewitt. Jerry and Ruby think this is a great part of the world to live in and are staying up for Mary Oliver's birthday party at Boshkung.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Anson, Hindon and Minden Deputy Reeve Bern Berry presented mementoes to a group of visitors from the Minden, Germany area, who were in the County last week. The visitors stayed at Hart Lodge where the presentations took place Wednesday.

Burglars bash offices

During the early morning hours of Wednesday, September 14 and Thursday, September 15, three municipal township offices were forcibly entered and the safes attacked.

The offices are located in Snowdon Township, Gelert, and Dalton Township, Sebright. These breakins occurred on September 14, 1988.

On September 15, the Bicroft Township office at Cardiff was entered. In two instances a small amount of cash was stolen.

Detective Sergeant Russ Woodbeck of Peterborough District Crime Unit states that there is no doubt that these breakins are related. Similar breakins are occurring in neighbouring Districts.

The Ontario Provincial Police within No. 8 District, comprising the counties of Peterborough, Northumberland, Victoria and Haliburton are appealing to all municipal office personnel to ensure that no money is left within the offices during the night-time hours. Further, the public is asked to report any suspicious vehicles or persons observed near a municipal office, to the nearest OPP Detachment or by calling Zenith 50,000.

Correction

The Times was in error in identifying the Padre of Minden Legion Branch 636, in a photo which appeared in last week's edition. The Padre for our new Legion is Reverend Doug Kent. We apologise for the confusion this error may have caused.

Trent-Severn Waterway report

On Monday, September 12, the readings of the lakes in Haliburton averaged 40%. Last week's percentage was reported in error as 39%. It really was 43.2% and therefore still slightly higher than 1987.

Only a modest flow has been required all week from these reservoir lakes despite the dry weather. Kawartha levels have been in a slow decline back into their respective ranges as the effect of the last rain diminishes.

Rain showers are forecast for this weekend, September 17, 18, which may give a boost to all the levels. Evaporation losses fall quite sharply in autumn, especially with the cooler temperatures of water and air.

Initiatives

It is very encouraging to see that Haliburton County Council has decided to take the initiative and start planning an escape from the water level problems that have frustrated area residents for decades.

At last week's County Council meeting, members openly criticized Trent-Severn Waterway authorities, as well as the federal government for ignoring one of the most important issues facing the residents of the Highlands.

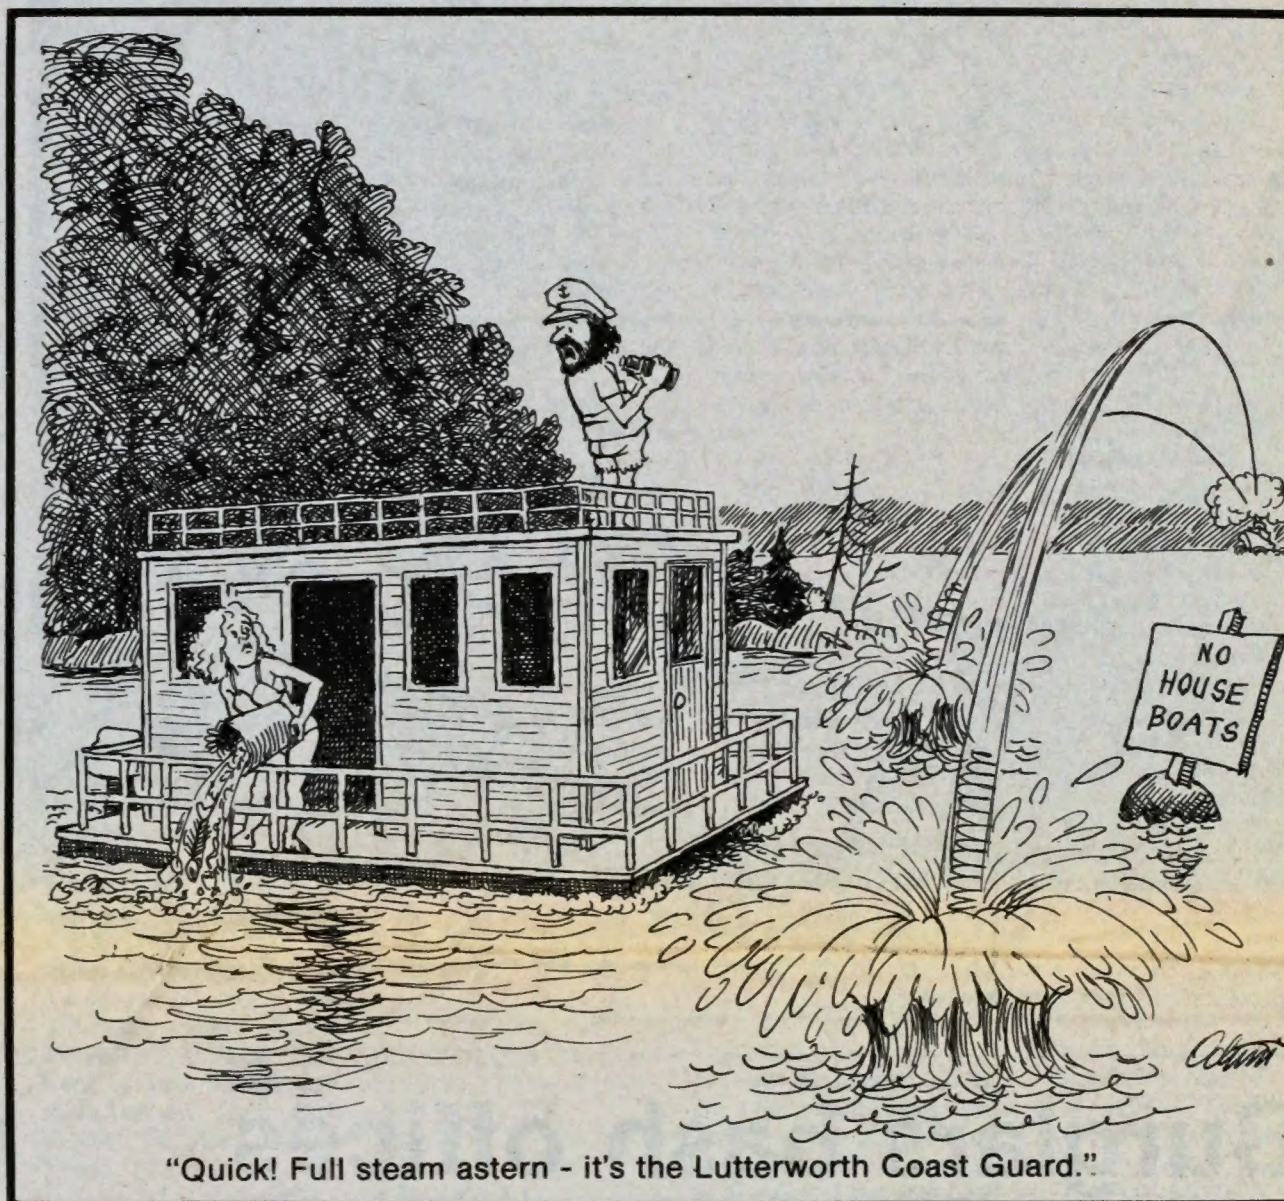

There was more than criticism though. This time, the members of County Council agreed that, since the government is unwilling to do what needs to be done, the initiative must be taken at the local level.

The obvious first step is to identify potential locations for reservoirs.

The reason the federal government has ignored our problem is the high cost of such a project. The government seems perfectly content to ignore the problems of the relatively small number of voters in this part of the country when the important votes are in country when the important votes seem to be in Quebec. In effect, Haliburton County residents have very little or no political pull in Ottawa.

The county is now planning to open negotiations with federal officials to undertake a study in hopes of identifying sites for new reservoirs. Perhaps this sort of local initiative will, in fact, show we are tired of being ignored. We've waited for more than ten years for the government to act. It's time to up the pressure some by going ahead with the obvious - build more reservoir capacity.

The end of a saga

Well, I see that the sad, silly saga of Dorothy Parker's ashes is finally coming to a finale. It's too bad Dorothy isn't around to enjoy it. Ms. Parker had a finely tuned sense of the absurd. She'd probably have died all over again - laughing, this time.

For anyone who hasn't kept up with the soap opera, the plot summary begins with the demise of perhaps America's greatest female wit, Dorothy Parker, on June 7th, 1967. We didn't take much notice up here in Canada because we were busy celebrating our 100th birthday, but then nobody made much of a fuss about Dorothy's death at the time. She was old and alcoholic and had been on a downslide for years. Her glory days were back in the 30's and 40's when she was one of the regulars at the most famous piece of furniture in American literary history - the Round Table of the Algonquin Hotel in New York. There, Dorothy traded ripostes and tossed verbal haymakers with the likes of Alexander Woollcott, James Thurber and George S. Kaufman. Dorothy was a bit of a ringer. She didn't look like she was packing a switchblade for a tongue. She was tiny and frail and kind of domestic looking, until she opened her mouth. A Round Table colleague once described her as "Petite, pretty ... and deadly as an asp." Indeed, Dorothy Parker was a woman who drew blood when she spoke.

She was an especially deadly counterpuncher. Once she ran into the beautiful and more than slightly egotistical Clare Booth Luce at a revolving door. "Age

black 'n white

by Arthur Black

before beauty" sneered Ms. Luce, standing aside. "Pearls before swine" sang Ms. Parker, sailing through the door.

In the war between the sexes, Dorothy Parker was an enthusiastic, if not particularly skillful participant. She was married a few times and fought many unsanctified border skirmishes along the way. But whenever there was competition for a man she fancied - that's when the claws really came out. When told that a certain London actress, well known for her appetite for lawyers, had broken a leg, Ms. Parker purred "How terrible! She must have done it sliding down a barrister." And of another competitor Dorothy sighed "Poor woman. She speaks 18 languages and can't say 'No' in any of them."

A lot of Dorothy Parker's acid dribbled out of her pen. In one book review she wrote: "This is not a novel to be tossed aside lightly. It should be thrown with great force."

In a newspaper review of a play called The Lake, starring Katherine Hepburn, Ms. Parker urged her readers to "go to the Martin Beck Theatre and watch Katherine Hepburn run the gamut of emotions from A to B."

Weak men and strong booze made for a tough life for Dorothy Parker, but she could be as ruthless about herself as she was about any other target.

As the body of her husband was being carried to the morgue, a meddlesome acquaintance sidled up to her and whispered "Dottie, tell me, dear, what I can do for you."

"Get me a new husband" said Ms. Parker.

"I think that's the most callous and disgusting remark I ever heard in my life" sniffed the woman.

"So sorry" said Dorothy. "Then run down and get me a ham and cheese on rye and tell them to hold the mayo."

All of which is a long way from what I started out to tell you about - Dorothy Parker's ashes. In 1967 the American writer's body was cremated according to her wishes, but no one knew what to do with her ashes. For 21 years an urnful of Parker ping ponged around the country, even spending several years in a New York office filing cabinet. Now, the ashes have been laid to rest in a memorial garden at the headquarters of one of Dorothy Parker's lifelong causes, the National Association for the Advancement of Coloured People.

Perhaps Dorothy foresaw the ashes debacle. Back in the 40's the Algonquin gang spent an afternoon writing their own epitaphs. Dorothy thought for a moment, scribbled three words on a scrap of paper and tossed it into the centre of the Round Table.

The words read: "Excuse my dust."

Agencies not funded

Editor:

On Monday, September 12, 1988, The Minden Times carried an article on its front page under the title "United Way extended to the County". We wish to thank you for helping us carry our messages to the public. However, we wish to apologize for some inaccuracies contained in the article. We at the United Way would like to address them at this time.

Our name is "The United Way Of Victoria County". We collect funds and then distribute them to eleven agencies. These people carry out their good work in Victoria County and eight of them bring their services to Haliburton County. Because of this, we invited the people of Haliburton to contribute to the United Way by mailing brochures to their homes.

The agencies in Haliburton NOT funded by the United Way of Victoria County are "The Canadian National Institute for the Blind", "The Haliburton Red Cross", "The Minden Red Cross", "The Wilberforce Red Cross", and "The Arthritis Society". These organizations carry out their own funding campaigns in Haliburton and deserve your support in order to continue their good work. We of The United Way of Victoria County wish them every success and extend to them our full co-operation in any way possible.

Mr. Editor, please accept our sincere appreciation for your past co-operation. We look forward to working with you in the future for the betterment of both Counties.

Executive Director for the Board of the Recycling is in the news, our landfill sites are growing at an alarming rate, and much recoverable material is getting buried.

A visit to any local landfill will demonstrate that we, as a society, are not very conscious of what we throw away.

Nothing is truly disposable and there is no "away". Landfills need to be replaced with resource conservation, recycling and composting. There are alternatives, but they require conscious — often demanding — choices by individuals, industry and government.

CHANGE (The County of Haliburton Association for a Naturally Good Environment) is sponsoring a public meeting about recycling on Friday, October 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the library of the J.D. Hodgson Secondary School. There will be representatives of the Ministry of the Environment, OMMRI (Ontario Multi-Material Recycling Inc.), and Pollution Probe, and the County of Haliburton Waste Management Committee in attendance to speak and answer questions. CHANGE will have written material on recycling in the home.

All residents of Haliburton are invited to attend. Recycling and its implications are important to residents, cottagers, business people, and politicians at all levels of government.

This is not an issue that can be "disposed" of anymore. Come and find out what you can do to support recycling.

Editor:

Below is the letter that has been sent to Dr. Alan Davidson in response to his letter published in your newspaper on September 12, 1988 re: Haliburton County Home Support Services.

Dear Dr. Davidson:

We regret the apparent misunderstanding expressed in your letter to the editor dated September 12, 1988 regarding Home Support Services.

We feel the best way to resolve this problem is by discussing it directly with you. The Executive of the Haliburton County Home Support Services is prepared to meet with you at a mutually agreeable time, preferably before October 15, at the Home Support office.

We will immediately contact your office to arrange this meeting.

There is no 'away': CHANGE

United Way apologises for unfortunate error

A story in the September 12 issue of The Times reported that United Way was extending into Haliburton County. The article pointed out that many member agencies operating out of Victoria County provided services to residents of Haliburton County. For the most part, this is true but not in the case of The Canadian Red Cross Society. Red Cross provides many services in Haliburton and they include Homemakers, Blood Donors, Emergency Services, First Aid, Water Safety, Sickroom Equipment Loan, Youth Services and Tracing and Reunion. The above-mentioned article implied that the Lindsay and District Branch, a member of United Way, provided these services in Haliburton County. In reality, it is the independent Branches in Minden, Wilberforce and Haliburton that provide the services. They are not members of United Way and receive no United Way dollars.

United Way of Victoria County is very sorry for the misunderstanding and Minden Red Cross Branch President Jim Burton, Wilberforce President Joanne Coumbs, and Haliburton President Ken Morley all feel that residents will continue to provide excellent support to their local Red Cross fundraising campaigns in March of each year.

Minden residents donated about $3,000 to this year's campaign and Haliburton residents donated over $10,000. On behalf of their dedicated volunteers, Burton and Morley extend their sincere thanks to all local residents who continue to support the Red Cross.

More reservoirs the only answer

function of the waterway - navigation.

At Wednesday's meeting, Fearrey suggested that there is not enough political pressure on the federal government to get action. Increased reservoir capacity is the only answer, and unless the county takes steps toward this goal, the problem will continue to be ignored.

Fearrey suggested that the county should undertake a study to locate potential sites for additional reservoir capacity even if it means an increase of up to $50 per household in taxes. "It's going to cost money, but if we're going to put a dent in it, it has to be done," Fearrey said. If taxes were raised by $10 per household, that would be enough to raise more than $300,000 for the study.

Pleading with waterway officials and the federal government has done nothing to solve the problem. Fearrey said the county will have to take the initiative to get things off the ground. Otherwise, "We will be reading about it until The Times and the Echo go out of business 50 to 100 years from now."

Identifying potential reservoir sites shows initiative, he said. "It shows that we mean business. Nothing will happen until we show that kind of initiative."

Kent remembers sanding road by hand

January that they had to plow every day of the month.

It was the freezing rain that was the worst, though. The roads department did not have any of the modern equipment for sanding. That meant whenever there was a freezing rain, they had to sand all the roads by hand, shovelling from the back of a truck.

Earl Hewitt was the Roads Superintendent who hired Kent as a truck driver and machinery operator. And after 17 years of working alongside Hewitt, Kent was ready to become the new superintendent when Hewitt retired. He held this job until two years ago when Clayton Cameron was hired.

Although he has successfully completed a number of courses, including the T.J. Mahoney Road School, the C.A. Anderson Road School and a dynamite safety course, he says experience has been his greatest teacher. "I learned a lot by listening and doing," he says. He believes that a person is never really done learning.

Because of problems with his neck, Kent has been off work since the middle of December. Because of his neck pain, he says he is limited in the things he will be able to do in his retirement. One thing he is looking forward to, though, is visiting regularly with his daughter, Gloria, who will soon be moving from a hospital in Huntsville to a home in Haliburton.

As a retirement present, Kent received a VCR from all the people at Saturday's party. The municipality presented him with a plaque. And his co-workers in the roads department gave him some coveralls and a hard hat with a special inscription. Hewitt, his first boss, was on hand to make some insightful comments to Kent's many friends.

Vaccinate Your Pets

Pet owners should know that rabies vaccination protects both the animal and its human companions. In the past 10 years rabies was diagnosed in 16,392 animals in Ontario of which 1,408 were dogs and cats. More than half of the 12,000 people who had to be vaccinated during this period had been exposed to dogs and cats. Rabies vaccine provides animals with an effective barrier against infection from four weeks after the inoculation for a period of a year or more. Cats require more frequent booster vaccinations than dogs to maintain a good level of immunity, but your veterinarian's advice on the frequency of vaccination for both dogs and cats should be followed.

HHSS Senior Redmen open with 4-0 win

The HHSS senior soccer team opened their season with an impressive 4-0 win against I.E. Weldon last Friday in Haliburton.

The Senior Redmen dominated play in the first half. Cecil Smith scored the first goal and Jan Haedicke added two more.

In the second half Weldon came out strongly and had a couple of good chances, but the Redmen held fast and continued to carry the play.

Jason Goodall added Haliburton's fourth goal late in the game. Every-one on the team played well.

Kickers make it two straight

The HHSS soccer team registered another convincing win this week; 7-2 against LCVI.

Haedicke, LCVI bounced back and had several good chances in the first half but were not able to score.

In the second half, Haliburton dominated. Excellent play by the midfield of Mark Sorenson, Cecil

Smith, Kelly Youngdale, Paddy Taylor, Darryl Winder and Jorge Romero allowed Jan Haedicke to score three more goals. Jorge Romero and Darren Warburton added singles for the Redmen. Everyone played well. Roland Greber was exceptional in the back-field.

Next Wednesday the Redmen play Fenelon Falls here at home with the senior game starting at 2 p.m.

Juniors battle to 1-1 tie

The HHSS junior soccer team began their season with a strong game against I.E. Weldon to finish with a 1-1 tie.

Wade Wood opened the scoring for the Junior Redmen in the second half. Weldon scored the tying goal ten minutes after the Redmen's first and only goal.

Weldon dominated play in the first half but the second half belonged to the Redmen. The Redmen outplayed Weldon with a series of short passes from the back and mid-fields up to the forwards.

The Junior Redmen play LCVI this Wednesday. Game time is 2:00 p.m. here at Haliburton.

Nichols' battle for championship

50 compete in Times Open

There was some tense competition Sunday at the annual Times Autumn Open as Bob and Hugh Nichol tied for top spot with 68 after 18 holes. The two had to go into a tie breaker after which Bob came out victorious. Award winners, from the left, are Bob Nichol low gross, Sherry Mulholland low gross and Hugh Nichol low net. Standing to the rear is Haliburton Highlands Golf Club owner Keith Stephenson.

It came down to a battle of the Nichol brothers at the Minden Times Autumn Open Golf Tournament September 18.

When the field of 50 golfers had completed the 18 holes on the Haliburton Highlands course, the score cards showed that Bob Nichol and his brother Hugh had both carded a 68. Following the traditional tie-breaking routine, the two headed back onto the course for a sudden death round. It didn't take long to determine the winner, with Hugh dropping one stroke on the first extra hole, giving his brother the low gross championship for 1988.

In third spot was Dick Davey with a 71. He was followed by Ken Rosenberg with a 74 and then Fred Whitehead at 76.

Leading in the low net competition this year was Ron Pasquino.

Sherry Mulholland took top honours in the ladies division. Phil Smith won the closest to the hole competition, played on the picturesque eighth hole, overlooking the water of Lake Kashagawigamog.

The weather was ideal for the tournament sponsored by The Times and organized by Keith Stephenson of the Haliburton Highlands course. Following the play, the players enjoyed a full course meal at Birch Point Lodge.

Golfers following low net winner Ron Pasquino, in the order of placing, were, Brian Fitzpatrick, Doug Kirkham, Mike Scheffee, Dave Allison, Tom Curry, Robert Young, Drew Kerry, Fred Scheffee, James Church, Keith Stephenson Jr., Curtis Bain, Joe Iles, Dean Curry, Bob Collier, Keith Heikkinen, Lloyd Curry, Mike Vuksic, Roger Bain and Andrew Hodgson. In all, 40 players made the trip to the amply stocked prize table. In addition to the purchased prizes, gifts were donated by Canada Dry, Carling O'Keefe, Ron Pasquino, Driftwood Restaurant, Molson's Brewery, PineStone Inn, Seagrams Distillers, Sir Sam's Ski Area, and Schwandt Lumber.

At the close of the presentations, a draw was made for a free 1989 membership at Haliburton Highlands Golf Course. The winner, selected from entries received throughout this season was Jerry Clark of Wilberforce.

"Fall is a wonderful time of year to travel throughout Ontario and enjoy the richness of the changing colours," O'Neil said. "My Ministry is pleased to provide information to help travellers take advantage of Ontario's many attractions and natural beauty."

The reports will be available to the public beginning September 8 by

Junior Redmen overpowered by LCVI team

An experienced LCVI junior soccer team handed the Junior Redmen an overwhelming defeat last Wednesday.

With a team that had played together during the summer in the Lindsay minor soccer league, LCVI dominated throughout the game.

The Junior Redmen had only a handful of breaks, the best coming from Jason Billings who was brought down on a foul. This foul game the Redmen a penalty shot but again they were unable to capitalize on this opportunity.

The Redmen see action again this Wednesday (September 28) when they host Fenelon Falls Secondary School.

With close to 150 teams and $20,000 in total prize money on the line this year, the event has become the biggest such race in eastern North America.

The meeting was told how the Lougheeds first became involved in the sport of sled dog racing, watching their involvement grow from just a few dogs to a kennel that now includes 50. As they became more proficient in the sport, they decided that Minden provided an ideal venue for a weekend of racing. With the support of the municipality, the business community and a group of local volunteers, the first event was held in 1984.

Since then, the Minden Sled Dog Derby has grown by leaps and bounds, attracting more racers and larger crowds year after year. The excitement of the sport did not go unnoticed outside the community either. The event, held on the second weekend of January each year, attracted the attention of the media who have featured the race on television, newspapers and magazines. The point was made during the presentation that each exposure of Minden in regional and national media, helped to put the community "on the map", and increase the awareness of Minden and the Highlands as a place where winter is an active tourist season.

The Minden Sled Dog Derby has also attracted the attention of a major sponsor, the meeting was told. Martin Feed Mills of Elmira has provided financial and other assistance for the race. They have continued to be the sponsor of the race since its second year of operation.

The introduction of the two citizens of the year cited the economic impact the derby has had on the community, the increased media exposure, and the community-wide effort led by Steve and Val Lougheed in organizing the derby each year.

In accepting the award, Steve and Val Lougheed thanked the Rotary club for the honour bestowed upon them. They noted that numerous volunteers assist them in preparing for and during the two days of the sled dog derby, and that much of the credit for the ongoing success of the event has been because of this support.

This is the second year the Rotary Club of Minden has presented a Citizen of the Year award. Last year's recipient was Don Crowe of Kawartha Dairy.

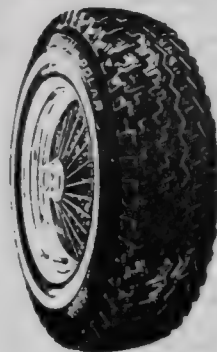

Also in attendance during the presentation of the award was the Rotary District 701 Governor Tom DeGeer of Cobconk, and a member of the Fenelon Falls Rotary Club. Attending for his annual visit to the Minden Club, the District Governor added his congratulations to the recipients of the local club's award. He said it was the sort of community involvement exhibited by the Lough-eeds that Rotary Clubs attempted to encourage in their members and in the citizens of the area they serve. He congratulated the club for making a special effort to recognize these important people in this community.

Angler lands special award

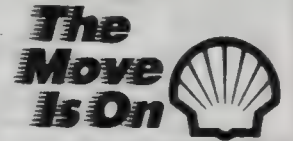

Rocky Crawford, 'The Legend of Haliburton Highlands' received a certificate of recognition for outstanding angling from the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden last Thursday. Deputy Reeve Bern Berry presented Crawford with the award during a council meeting. Crawford recently won top honours in the Pro-Bass Classic, Canada's most prestigious angling event. Although he no longer lives in Minden, Crawford often returns to the area to guide other anglers and hunters. He also helps publicize the great Highlands' Outdoors through his articles in Outdoor Canada magazine.

Studio tour set to go

by Leo Dobrzensky

The first Haliburton County Studio Tour, an event no one can afford to miss, is scheduled for October 1 and 2. Please mark your calendar, pick-up one of the free brochures at local stores or galleries, and become one of the privileged individuals to enter, if only for a moment, the inner sanctuary of artists and craftspeople - their studio.

I cannot think of anything more satisfying than touring the countryside in early October, when the leaves are in full colour, then stopping at a lakeside or woodland workshop tucked-away in some enchanted corner. To chat with the artisans about their work and to bring home an original creation inspired, more often than not, by the beautiful Highlands. This will add to the enjoyment of the Studio Tour and turn it into a memorable experience.

There are still 10 artisans listed in the Studio Tour brochure whose work has not yet been covered in this column. Because of lack of space, we are obliged to feature five today, five next week.

Deborah Bates creates pencil drawings, original watercolours and limited editions of animals and wildflowers in a studio located on Ritchie Falls Road, off County Road 1 at Lochlin (first house on left, just over the bridge). While you are in the area, visit the scenic Ritchie Falls at the end of Ritchie Falls Road.

Weaver Vicki Cross is located on George Street in Minden, second last house on right side. Vicki uses natural fibres and is best known for a variety of decorative and useful articles for the home, as well as one-of-a-kind wearing apparel.

Another weaver, Jean Farrell, has been working with wool, mohair and cotton for many years. A scenic woodland area on the Drag River, off Valley Road, north of Gelert, is home to this well-known and highly appreciated artisan.

Ed Hancock expresses his love for the Highlands through striking paintings in oil and watercolour. His studio home commands a panoramic view of Mountain Lake, and is located on Mountain View Road, north of Minden, off Highway 35, south of Hart Lodge.

Peter and Joan Hoad live and work in a beautiful, park-like setting on Lake Kashagawigamog. Peter, a sculptor who creates life-like animals in clay or bronze is also a prize-winning graphic artist and illustrator (the cover of the Studio Tour brochure is his original creation). Joan's vibrant watercolours are a joy to behold. Both were recent winners in the East Central Ontario Art Association Juried Exhibition. The Hoad studio is located at the end of Peninsula Drive, off Highway 121, between Minden and Haliburton.

Two celebrate 99th birthdays

Isabella Eastman

Two very special birthdays are being celebrated this month at Hyland Crest. Isabella Eastman was 99 years old on September 9 and Mary Oliver will reach the same milestone on September 29.

Isabella, who is enjoying life at Hyland Crest, grew up in Fenelon Falls. In her younger days, she worked as a seamstress at Town Lee's Taylor shop, making men's trousers. She was living in a boarding house, and that is where she met the man who would become her husband.

Miss Rutherford became Mrs. Eastman when she married Will Eastman. Will was also working in Fenelon Falls along the lakeshore for the government.

The secret to staying so young is simple, says Isabella. A person just has to think "young and happy." She also notes that she never indulged in drink or tobacco.

Although she is celebrating her 99th birthday this week, Mary Oliver, formerly of Halls Lake, is still very young at heart.

She has lived in Canada now for 60 years, but a faint Yorkshire accent reveals some of her past.

Mary was born in Huddersfield in Yorkshire, England, in 1889. Along with her husband, the late Arthur Robert Oliver, she moved to Canada in 1919, to take over operation of Arthur's family's farm.

For the past eight years, Hyland Crest has been home to Mary, and it is evident from the many personal touches in her room that she is very comfortable there. However, every year on her birthday, she visits the family farm, where she spent so many happy years.

Special birthday wishes go out to both of these ladies.

Mary Oliver

Pentney donation starts fund

A special fund for the purchase of a new fire truck for the Minden Fire Department has been started with a $500 donation from Minden Home Hardware.

Last Thursday evening at a meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships Council, Fire Chief Don Booth accepted the cheque from Bob Sisson, an employee of Minden Home/All and a townships councillor. Sisson made the presentation on behalf of John Pentney, owner of Home Hardware.

The Minden Fire Department provides protection to an area of Haliburton County that covers about 400 square miles. In addition to the fire protection service it provides in Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships, the department also has an agreement to cover parts of Snowdon and Lutterworth Townships.

With this in mind, the Ontario Fire Marshall's Office has recommended that the department acquire an additional pumper. However, this will cost about $165,000 new.

Booth said he was pleased and surprised that Pentney was making this donation. He said he had only mentioned in passing that a new truck was needed and a short while later he learned that Pentney was making the donation.

The municipality has a reserve fund of $40,000 set aside for the purchase of fire equipment. However, Booth said the department has to have another truck within a year or two.

This generous donation from Home Hardware is the start of a fund, but there is a long way to go before the goal of $165,000 is met.

Minden Fire Chief Don Booth accepts a cheque for $500 from Councillor Bob Sisson. Sisson made the presentation on behalf of John Pentney of Minden Home Hardware. The money will go toward the eventual purchase of a new fire truck.

Harvest has begun

Summer has faded. Frost has already made an appearance. Leaves are beginning to change to brilliant colours. Harvest has begun.

The Minden and District Horticultural Society, in spite of a rather unusual type of year for good gardening, is quite satisfied with the results of their work.

All plantings, beds and street tubs still maintain a rich and vibrant wealth of colour. With late summer rain to rejuvenate growth, these flowers have added a great deal of beauty to the village.

Individual gardens in the area are still very good. The vegetable gardens have reached harvest time. Preserves and pickles line the shelves and freezers are full of the produce derived from the gardens.

Still in the ground are beets, carrots, parsnips, turnips, etc. which will remain until the appointed time for uprooting. Pumpkins and squash have reached maturity and add colour to the ripened field.

Once again the Horticultural Society is sponsoring the Largest Pumpkin Contest as well as a contest for the largest sunflower head. A prize will be given for the best pie pumpkin and for the best display of gourds.

Members may bring squash, plants, roots, etc. to be sold. This takes place Saturday, October 1 at 10:30 a.m. on the Village Green on Main Street.

So come along and enjoy this event. Think of all the things that can be made from pumpkins - pie, cake, muffins, cookies, soup, loaves, preserves, etc. - not to forget the Jack O'Lantern so famous at Hallowe'en.

The next general meeting will be on October 4 in the Court Room. Everyone welcome.

More opportunity for housing

by John Eakins, M.P.P.

This week I would like to discuss an important initiative which will assist low-income working people in obtaining subsidized housing and another initiative designed to improve the quality of Ontario table wines.

Unlike the first initiative I have mentioned, low-income working people will be given a better chance to obtain subsidized housing.

Major changes in the way the Ontario Housing

Corporation (OHC) evaluates applications for rent-gated-to-income housing will result in about 2,000 additional working households obtaining accommodation through the OHC by the end of next year.

The changes to the priority rating system, which will come into effect no later than January 1989, will mean that working applications will receive standard deductions from their income for typical employment-related expenses including transportation, child care and clothing.

Creating a more equitable application system means that many low-income working people will have a better chance of obtaining affordable accommodation through the OHC.

The OHC administers about 98,000 subsidized units for qualified residents who pay rent based solely on income rather than the size or type of housing provided. OHC tenants pay about 25 per cent of their income on rent. The OHC's housing portfolio is administered through a network of 58 local housing authorities across Ontario.

The other initiative is designed to improve the quality of Ontario table wines. New regulations will set purchase guarantees and quotas as well as types and quantities of grapes used in Ontario wines.

The comprehensive strategy involves replacing labrusca grapes with viniferas and French hybrids as the industry base, downsizing production, setting quality standards and promoting Ontario wines.

The strategy was developed over the past two years by the Consumer Ministry, the Ministry of Agriculture and Food, the Ontario Grape Grower's Marketing Board and the Wine Council of Ontario.

New regulations under the Wine Content Act affect wines using some imported grapes; those under the Liquor Control Act apply to wines made entirely from Ontario grapes.

In force for the 12-year adjustment period, these regulations are aimed at improving grape and wine quality while maintaining stable markets.

Consumers will also be provided with an incentive to buy Ontario wines, through the gradual reduction in the markup differential over 12 years. Quality standards should receive a further boost when the Ontario Vintners Quality Alliance, an industry association which helped develop the new quality rules, introduces rigorous quality standards for its members.

Did you know?

by Doreen Hawman

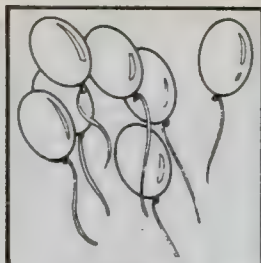

The Ministry of Housing rent review guideline for 1989 has been set at 4.6 per cent. The new guideline taking effect January 1, 1989 reflects a decrease of one tenth of one per cent compared to the guideline used for 1988.

The rent review guideline is simply that - a guideline. An amount by which a landlord can increase the maximum rent for a unit during the year without an approval from the Ministry of Housing. A tenant does not have to accept a rent increase at or below the guideline and may challenge an increase by applying to Rent Review Board. Ninety days written notice of any increase must be given and can only be raised once in each 12-month period, even when a new tenant moves in.

Realtors learn of shoreline rules

The Leslie M. Frost Natural Resources Centre in Dorset held a Shoreline Development Information Seminar on September 20 for an audience of realtors from Muskoka and Haliburton.

The seminar, made possible through funding provided by Ontario resident angling license revenues, was intended to promote public awareness of shoreline development impacts on lakes.

Any change made along a shoreline - such as building a dock, creating a beach, removing rocks from shallow water or cutting shoreline vegetation - can have serious negative impacts on the water quality of a lake, and the fish and wildlife using a lake. Even small projects - when there are several around a lake - can be detrimental because of the accumulative effect of many seemingly "harmless" changes.

Several Ministry of Natural Resources experts were on hand at the seminar to make presentations and answer questions. By providing information to realtors who work closely with shoreline property owners, the ministry hopes to increase awareness among shoreline users.

The message was not that all shoreline development is bad. Instead, the ministry wants to encourage methods of shoreline development that will allow people to use and enjoy shorelines without detrimental effects on our lakes. An additional message was that shoreline property owners should be aware that they are legally required to obtain authorization from their nearest district office before starting any shoreline alterations. In many cases, the ministry can help landowners in planning their shoreline projects.

The large turn-out for this seminar indicated a sincere interest in the long-term protection of lake quality in Muskoka - Haliburton. The ministry hopes to build on this positive attitude through similar public education efforts in the future.

Learning to spot birds

by Marion Strebig
Federation of Ontario
Naturalists

One fall when I was 8 or 9 I hiked with my father down a river valley to the marsh at its mouth. On the way my father pointed out Great Blue Herons poised to strike, drawn up like exclamation marks, and Pied-billed Grebes, popping up like corks and then disappearing like magic. When Blue-winged Teal erupted from the marsh my father pointed out the striking white facial crescent and told me that blue-winged teal are easily spooked. That was my first lesson in bird identification - a recognizable field mark and a knowledge of a bird's behaviour. We saw other birds that my father could not identify. When I pored over our old copy of Taverner's Birds of Canada the pictures were useless in helping me identify them.

As a teenager I received a copy of the Roger Tory Peterson A Field Guide to Birds of North America East of the Rockies. Here at last I found what I was looking for - a simplified representation of a bird

by Pearl Lyle

Dear Readers: Dark and dreary days, but brighter tomorrow. It was nice to have Mrs. Mary Burgess with us for our Sunday evening chapel service.

We extend our sympathy to Mrs. Stutt whose sister passed away recently.

Ina McGuire had her son Murray in to see her recently. Winnie Barnum went to West Guilford with her sister May and husband Roy on Sunday and on Monday went to Lindsay with her son Terry. Mr. and Mrs. Bain were in to see Maggie Gainforth and Ruby Lewis. Annie Schultz had her grandson and granddaughter in to see her last weekend.

Sorry to report Dora Dawson is still not well. She had her niece and friend in on Sunday.

The ACW Ladies from Kinmount Anglican Church came on Thursday and served a delicious Tea Party Luncheon which was enjoyed by all. It was nice to see the Ladies from home.

It was fun setting up the Baby Contest. Everyone put in an old picture of when they were young, and then the residents and staff tried to guess who they were. First in staff class for most correct was Mary McKelvey, second was Nancy Carefoot, third was Pearl Lyle. For the residents class, for the most correct was Pearl Lyle, second was Annie Schultz, third Winnie Barnum.

Bert Harrison had his daughter and her husband in on Sunday for a visit. My daughter Anna Gordon and Mrs. Gordon Sr. came on Monday and we went out for lunch. We then went for a nice long drive around the countryside. The leaves were not at their best, but, it was a beautiful day and being from the city Mrs. Gordon Senior really enjoyed our scenery in our part of Ontario.

We are sorry to report Bert Harrison is a patient at Ross Memorial Hospital. We wish him a speedy recovery so he may be home soon.

"Let us put what we can into to-day-in service, hope, and faith - and we will have more than we set shall find that to-night we out with."

Seniors try 'the cheating game'

Some 50 guys and gals teed off at Blairhampton in a best ball or as golfers say, the cheating game. Everyone is a long ball hitter, has a great iron game or a top putter as everyone plays the best ball.

One thing noticable in a mixed group is how the men don't mind looking for any balls that stray into the bushes along the way. Several pictures were taken around the course, and these will show up later, unless special requests are granted.

Walking around the course I noticed the good shape it was in and this did produce some good golf for everyone. Some laughed at everything, others were more serious. The day went well with everyone finished and later returned to the Minden Curling Rink.

At home base a happy hour preceded a fine meal prepared by Ed Pergolas. After the dinner a standing tribute was paid to Jack and Hazel Gregory who were celebrating their 60th wedding anniversary, and also to Glenda Robertson for her first class effort at the Ontario Senior Games Actifest '88 at Brampton, capturing a silver medal in golf. Well done.

The golf committee headed by Russ King showing the scars and bruises inflicted by a few serious golfers have now come up with winners - and they are: 1st, a three-some of Grace Munns, John Thomas, captained by the phantom, fisherman Jim Grant with a fine score of 34 for the nine holes. Tied for second and third at 35 were a foursome of Glenda

Robertson, Reg Munns, Jack Gregory, captained by "Silent Bill" Donnelly; and a foursome of Gwen Cox, Ross Codlin, Stan

Hill, captained by "Shanty Bay" Roly Scott. Individual prizes went to: Longest ball, ladies - Glenda Robertson; Longest ball, mens - Jack Harrington; Closest to the hole - Lloyd Boskett; Hidden hole - six on the first team of Frank Codlen, Muriel Harrington, Reg Newbury, Rowland Sedgwick. Several door prizes were given to lucky recipients and the evening closed with a few choice tidbits by Ralph Kennedy.

In closing we would like to thank Sandy and Doug of Blairhampton Golf Course for their generous gifts as prizes, the use of their course, the Insurance Adjusters will be up to see you as soon as possible.

Now, don't forget the friendly meeting at the curling rink Saturday, October 1 at 7:30. Mid October the winter battle begins.

Peterson's system simplifies bird spotting emphasizing the features of the bird's appearance that even brief and distant observation would reveal. It also grouped birds one might normally see together, like the dabbling ducks. With its help I was soon able to identify most of the waterfowl I encountered. I am still working on shorebirds and passerines (perching birds).

Roger Tory Peterson, who turned 80 this summer, has probably interested more people in nature than any other living person. Since the publication of the first Field Guide in 1934, Peterson's system of identification with simplified patterned drawings of birds, and arrows of highlight significant field marks has won universal acceptance. Gone are the days when the only sure way to identify a species was to hold a dead bird in the hand. For study, binoculars and a field guide have replaced the shotgun.

Peterson vividly describes his first close encounter with a bird when he was 11. On a hike he spotted what he thought was a dead Flicker. Actually the bird was resting after migration. "The bird was sleeping with its bill tucked under the loose feathers of its back, but I thought it was dead. I poked it with my finger. Instantly this inert thing jerked its head around, looked at me wildly, and then took off in a flash of gold. It was like resurrection. Ever since then birds have seemed to me the most vivid expression of life."

R. T. Peterson believes firmly that no one can take up a serious study of natural history without its having far-reaching effects on the way that person lives. A knowledge of the interrelatedness of the environment in which we live leads to a respect for all forms of life, and a desire to curb human activities which degrade any part of that system.

Peterson and his famous Field Guides which have now sold upward of 3,000,000 copies in North America are at least partly responsible for the recent resurgence of interest in birdwatching and the study of natural history. In the May 25, 1987 issue of Time magazine an article about birdwatching asserted that 1 American in 4 is at least a casual birdwatcher. In North America people spend nearly $20,000,000 a year on wild bird seed. A Canadian Wildlife Service Survey to determine the importance of wildlife to Canadians which was released in 1983 found that of the 76,000 respondents 83% engaged in some non-consumptive wildlife activity like bird-watching. In Ontario at hotspots for migration like Point Pelee, birdwatchers are estimated to contribute as much as 25% of the annual revenue of some local businesses.

It is fitting that the man who led so many people to a serious interest in nature should now have a non-profit educational institute established in his honour. The Roger Tory Peterson Institute located in his hometown, Jamestown, N.Y. was set up to encourage the study of natural history, particularly in the field, so that students would be encouraged to know the living animal. As Peterson is not a professional scientist, it is fitting that the Institute bearing his name should bring amateurs and professionals together, offering research opportunities as well as lectures, exhibits and slide shows.

At least part of his legacy has been to concentrate our attention on tempering the effects of human activities on wildlife. Many people would agree with Peterson when he says "I for one would find the world quite desolate if there were no birds."

IN MEMORIAM

BUIST: In loving memory of Jefferey Buist (Fryer): Our dear son who died September 29, 1987.

Dear Son: (From Our Hearts)

It has been such a long year of getting by, Filled with so many days of wondering why? We just don't understand why it was that you had to go, They keep telling us that's a part of life, no one will ever know.

The hurt, pain and confusion, of still wanting you, Just finds us standing in silence, not knowing what to do.

Is it time to be happy? Or should we still be sad? All of these strange feelings, and none we've ever had.

The only thing we wanted, was a minute or maybe two, To tell you once again, what we really feel for you.

But the next thing we knew, you were taken far away, It all happened so fast, we didn't know what to do or say. So here we are, now that we must be apart, To let you know how very special you will always remain in our heart.

For you are our son Jefferey, they can't change that too. Please never forget, how very much... We love you.

Mom and Dad

BUIST: In loving memory of Jefferey Buist (Fryer): Our dear brother who died September 29, 1987.

Dear Jeff:

Brother we love you, you are very dear, Although at times we miss you, we know that you are near. Sometimes we are very lonely, but you're always there, And that just shows us, how very much you care. Someday we will surely see you, and then, We will all be reunited in heaven, once again.

Love

Jamie & John

BUIST: In loving memory of Jeff Buist: A very special friend who died September 29, 1987.

Dear Jeff:

At least once a day, there's a thought of you, It's always a happy one, that brings a smile or two. You were very special, in so many ways, We shall never forget, all of our fun filled days.

We love you - we miss you
Karen & Wendy

IN MEMORIAM

HARRISON: In loving memory of a dear sister, Laura Harrison, who passed away September 29, 1984 also a dear brother-in-law David Harrison who passed away on June 17, 1980.

We can't have the old days back, When we were all together. But secret tears and loving thoughts, Will be with us forever.

Lovingly remembered by Alice

IN MEMORIAM

MISCIO: In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Mike Miscio, who passed away September 25, 1972.

If teardrops could build a stairway
And if memory could build a lane
We'd walk the long road to reach you
And bring poppa home again.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by grandchildren and daughter Nell.
